What's moving in AI.

AI NEWS

AI made everyone faster. Forrester says it also made them the same.

Forrester's new report (out today): 9 in 10 agencies now use generative AI — but chasing speed and cost is "undermining creativity, effectiveness, and brand growth." The warning: the industry is "mistaking efficiency for effectiveness." The winners reinvest in differentiation.

WHY THIS MATTERS

For this room. For this community.

*People don't buy what you do.
They buy why you do it.*

— SIMON SINEK

— FOR YOU. FOR THIS ROOM. —

An offer earns the yes. A mechanism earns the belief.

LAST WEEK • BE WORTH IT

A strong offer made them say yes.

- Promise — the outcome, minus the dread.
- Container + Guarantee — finite and safe.
- Pillars — proof you can deliver.

THIS WEEK • BE BELIEVED

A mechanism makes them buy your why.

- The trap — why the old way fails them.
- The turn — why your way works instead.
- The story — "finally, someone gets it."

Who wants extra accountability?

Drop your personal goals in the community.

Mechanism

— BEFORE THE FRAMEWORK —

What a Mechanism is.

THE DIAGNOSIS

Why everything they've tried before has failed.

THE DIFFERENCE

Why your way is going to be different.

Said as one short story — both halves at once — it ends with your client thinking "finally, someone gets it." Your niche is who. Your offer is what. Your mechanism is why it works.

Same agent. Two answers to "why you?"

One lists credentials any agent could claim — and any chatbot could recite. One tells the story of why her way works. Only one makes them lean in.

ANSWER A

"15 years of experience, full-service, I work harder than anyone and I really care about my clients."

RESULT · A LIST OF CLAIMS. EVERY AGENT SAYS IT. FORGETTABLE.

ANSWER B · THE WINNER

"Most downsizers list fast and figure out the move as they go — then panic when the home sells before they have anywhere to land. So I build the Bridge Plan first, before we ever list — you sell on your timeline, with your next place locked."

RESULT · A STORY THAT ENDS WITH "FINALLY, SOMEONE GETS IT."

Same agent. One recites tasks. One explains why her way works when the usual way fails.

Kayla's Mechanism.

Six lines, read in order. The first three name the trap; the last three show the way out.
Out loud, it sounds like a story — not a sales pitch.

Most people are...	trying to sell the family home by listing fast and figuring out the move as they go.
The problem with that is...	they get a buyer before they have anywhere to go — forced into a rushed, panicked decision.
Which ultimately means...	they overpay for the next place or settle for the wrong one — and resent the whole move.
So instead, we...	build a Bridge Plan first — mapping the move and the timing before the home ever hits the market.
Which allows you to...	sell at top dollar on your timeline, with a confirmed place to land.
Which ultimately means...	you close one chapter and open the next calmly — never homeless, never rushed.

The six-line story.

This is the build. Each line flows into the next. Three to name the trap, three to show the way out.

1 · Most people are...

the common approach your person takes today.

2 · The problem with that is...

why that approach quietly fails them.

3 · Which ultimately means...

the painful consequence they actually feel.

4 · So instead, we...

your specific method — the named way you do it.

5 · Which allows you to...

the benefit your way creates.

6 · Which ultimately means...

the dream outcome — the benefit of that benefit.

First, name the trap.

The diagnosis. What is everyone else doing, where does it quietly break down, and what does that cost your person? Say the painful part out loud.

ASK YOURSELF

- What's the default move your person makes before they meet you?
- Where does that move quietly break down?
- What's the real cost — the emotional one, not just the dollars?

KAYLA'S TRAP

- Most sell fast and figure out the move as they go.
- They get a buyer before they have anywhere to land.
- They settle for the wrong place — and resent the move.

Then, show the way out.

The turn. Name your method, the benefit it unlocks, and the dream outcome on the other side. This is where they think "finally."

ASK YOURSELF

- What do you do instead — your named method?
- What does that method make possible the old way couldn't?
- What's the dream outcome — the benefit of that benefit?

KAYLA'S TURN

- We build the Bridge Plan first, before we list.
- You sell at top dollar, on your timeline, with a place to land.
- You close one chapter and open the next — calmly.

Read it out loud.

The mechanism isn't written, it's spoken. Say all six lines in one breath. If it sounds like a story instead of a pitch, you've got it.

THE TEST

- Say it to one real person this week — watch their face.
- You're listening for the "finally, someone gets it" nod.
- If they ask "how do you do that?" — it's working.

DON'T FORCE IT

- This is the hardest of the three. That's normal.
- A rough draft beats a blank page — lock words today.
- Let it breathe a week, then sharpen it in the room.

THE STANDARD

A mechanism is the simultaneous explanation of why everything they've tried has failed — and why your way is different. Nail that, and you stop competing on price.

Your whole positioning, in one breath.

Niche + Offer + Mechanism, stacked into the one paragraph you can say at a listing appointment, on a podcast, or to your sphere — and have it land every time.

I help [your person] achieve [your promise] without [the thing they dread]. Unlike the usual approach of [the common method that fails], my [named mechanism] means they finally [the dream outcome].

DO THIS TODAY

Lock your six-line Mechanism, then write your full positioning statement and drop it in YourInnerCirql.com. That completes the Positioning Series — Niche, Offer, Mechanism. Now go say it out loud.

Three that land.

The same formula, filled in with real niches. The part in gold is the named Mechanism — that's what makes each one click.

THE DOWNSIZING SPECIALIST

I help empty-nesters in the north metro sell the family home for top dollar and land in the right next chapter — without being stuck between two homes. Unlike the usual approach of listing fast and figuring out the move as they go, my Bridge Plan maps the move before we ever list — so they finally close one chapter and open the next, on their own timeline.

THE FIRST-TIME BUYER AGENT

I help first-time buyers win the home they love without overpaying or losing to cash offers. Unlike the usual approach of house-hunting first and scrambling for pre-approval later, my Offer-Ready Method gets them fully underwritten before we tour a single home — so they finally write a winning offer the moment they find the one, and stop renting.

THE MOVE-UP SPECIALIST

I help move-up families sell high and buy smart without the nightmare of owning two homes or none. Unlike the usual approach of listing and hoping the timing just works out, my Sell-and-Land Plan lines up the sale and the next purchase together — so they finally move up on their schedule, never caught between two closings.

— NEXT WEEK • COME PREPARED —

Come ready to read it off.

Your homework: finish the workbook and lock your whole positioning statement — Niche + Offer + Mechanism. Come to next week's call (Wed Jul 1 • 10 AM CT) ready to read it out loud to the room.
